

- The following breeds of dogs and cats have been identified by Delta as pug/snub-nosed breeds. In the best interest of the safety of the animal, we do not allow them as cargo on any Delta or Delta Connection flight. Although it is not a complete, exhaustive list of all breeds, including hybrid breeds, it is shown here in order to provide examples of the type of breeds that are at higher risk of health related issues that may occur during air travel. Effective October 1, 2016 these breeds will be refused transportation at all times, regardless of age, weight, or temperature limits.

EXAMPLES OF DOGS*		EXAMPLES OF CATS*
Affenpinscher	Lhasa Apso	Burmese
American Bully	Mastiff (all breeds)	Exotic Shorthair
American Pit Bull Terrier	Pekingese	Himalayan
American Staffordshire Terrier	Pit Bull	Persian
Boston Terrier	Presa Canario
Boxer (all breeds)	Pug (all breeds)
Brussels Griffon	Shar Pei
Bulldog (all breeds)	Shih Tzu
Cane Corso	Staffordshire Bull Terrier
Chow Chow	Tibetan Spaniel
Douge de Bordeaux
English Toy Spaniel (King Charles Spaniel)
Japanese Chin (Japanese Spaniel)

*The list is intended to show examples of breeds that are considered brachycephalic. It is NOT intended as a complete list.